Accomplishments For Past Week

-Had a graduate student to tech us the systems that we would be working with and how some of the systems are interconnected. Also he gave us good insight into what are some of the problems that they are facing and how we come into helping them.

Plans For Coming Week/Individual Tasks

-To understand the what how the systems are working we need to go over the previous years Sr. Design projects and find out what they were able to do and how they set up some of the systems. Doing this will also give us insight into some of the problems they had so we will not be surprised if we run into them or if we will be able to solve something that they had trouble with.

Pending Issues/Hours Spent

-At this point we do not have any issues to be solved because we are still learning what our project is going to be composed of and what we are going to have to be learning to run the systems effectively.
